

AVALANCHE RESOURCES ANNOUNCES NEW FUND TARGETING INVESTMENTS IN GROWTH ORGANIZATIONS

HOUSTON, TX – June 29, 2005 – Avalanche Resources, Ltd. today announced that it has established a new fund that will target investments in growth organizations across North America.

“Today we are announcing that we are seeking investment opportunities,” stated Kevin Maddox, CEO of Avalanche Resources. “Avalanche Resources is positioned to make investments in compressed timeframes to provide the capital and experience necessary to create greater momentum for some really exciting businesses.”

Avalanche Resources is planning to make a series of investments ranging from $300,000 to $3 million each. “We’re looking for organizations that have strong management teams with a record of success, a clear competitive advantage, and an attractive marketplace,” Mr. Maddox continued. “We specialize in investments that are a little too big for typical angel investors, but may not have the critical mass size for larger venture capital firm attention. We offer more than angel investors can offer in the way of services and higher levels of funding, but we move much faster than the bigger firms.”

Avalanche Resources welcomes prospective organizations to review the company’s investment criteria on their website at www.avalancheresources.com.

About Avalanche Resources

Based in Houston, Texas, Avalanche Resources is a venture capital company that provides capital for growing organizations across North America. The company provides funding and advisory services to entrepreneurial organizations that demonstrate vision and passion in their business endeavors and illustrate a clear competitive advantage in their marketplace. Visit the company’s website at www.avalancheresources.com.

Contact Information:

Kevin C. Maddox

Voice: 713-973-3912

Email: kevin.maddox@avalancheresources.com